

Night trains in Europe

Sleeper services returned to many routes this year.

Most of them run between capitals.

Operators plan more cross-border connections for the winter timetable.